FCSI 2013 Innovation Award

The FCSI Product of the year is chosen from one of 10 finalists in the FCSI Educational Foundation's Innovation Showcase. It recognizes manufacturers whose commitment to research and development has resulted in a truly innovative product that is a clear leap forward for the foodservice industry. The 10 finalists are selected by a distinguished panel of FCSI Fellows and ICONs, and the winner is selected by majority vote of FCSI Consultant members attending the annual conference.

Foodservice Consultants Society International (FCSI) is the premier association promoting professionalism in foodservice and hospitality consulting. With over 1300 members in over 46 countries, FCSI members offer a wide range of consulting services including concept development, feasibility studies, food safety, design, marketing, operations and training. Membership requirements are stringent and FCSI members are recognized as industry experts.
